

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A method of promoting sales for goods and/or services comprises providing a potential consumer a software program that enables the potential consumer to play a game. To collect the prize of the game, the potential consumer may contact a remote sales agent, subjecting the potential consumer to a sales presentation.